1/ With effect from 1 February 2001, commercial and merchant banks are required to keep 50 percent of their demand deposits and 20 percent of their savings & time deposits as required reserves.

2/ Base for requirements since May 1981 is liabilities to the public.

3/ The liquid asset ratio is defined as the ratio of liquid assets to the liabilities to the public. Liquid assets consist of the following: (i) notes and coins; (ii) balance with the Reserve Bank and discount houses; (iii) short-term debt (treasury, trade, and agricultural marketing authority); (iv) government and municipal stocks with less than one year remaining to maturity; and (v) net external positions.

Tax	Nature of Tax	Exemptions and Deductions	Rates
1. Taxes on net income and profits
1.1 Taxes on companies, corporations, and enterprises
Companies Income Tax, Chapter 23:06; amended by Acts 1/80, 11/80, 10/81, 55/81, 30/82, 32/83, 7/84, 24/84, 19/85, 5/88, 10/88, 22/89, 10/90, 19/90, 21/91, 17/92, 12/93, 19/94, 4/95, 17/95, 23/95, 4/96, 10/96, 13/96, 17/97, 23/97, 29/98, 9/99, 17/99, 21/99, 22/99, 6/00, 18/00, 22/01, 27/01, and 15/02.	Annual income tax is levied on taxable income of companies (including branches of foreign corporations) from all sources within Zimbabwe. Income from other sources is not liable to tax except for interest. Taxable income is defined as gross income (excluding accruals of a capital nature and exempt income) less allowable deductions incurred in the process of production. The assessment year runs from January to December, and tax on the past year’s liability (for the tax year ending in December, based on a preliminary assessment) is payable thrice yearly in February, and two other payments close to June and November on a 50 percent, 25 percent, and 25 percent basis, respectively.	Interest on specified government borrowing and postal savings is exempt. Deductions allowed include expenditure and losses (other than of a capital nature) to the extent to which they are incurred for the purposes of the taxpayer’s trade or in the process of his production expenditure. These include repairs and maintenance, as well as depreciation computed on either the straight line or reducing balance basis. A special initial allowance, equal to 25 percent per annum over 4 years, is available for equipment purchases, farm improvements, industrial buildings, licensed hotels, and railways lines erected and used by the tax payer for the purpose of his trade. Special allowance treatment of commercial buildings allowed for in designated growth point areas. Additional 15 percent investment allowance for new investments in designated growth point areas. Additional 15 percent training investment allowance for training buildings and new training equipment.	Basic tax: 30 percent of taxable income. Growth point areas: Profits from approved new manufacturing operations in designated growth point areas are taxable at 10 percent for the first five years of operation. Export Processing Zones: Income tax rate of 15 percent after a tax holiday of five years. Export incentives: Companies which export 50 percent more of their manufacturing are taxed at 20 percent. Withholding tax on contracts: Starting in April 1995, firms bidding on government contracts that do not provide evidence of a valid income tax return face 10 percent withholding of the value of the contract.
1.2 Individual income tax (income tax Act, Chapter 23: 06)	Annual tax on income of individuals derived from all sources within Zimbabwe. Income from other sources is not liable to tax except for interest and dividends. Taxable income is defined as gross income (excluding accruals of capital nature and exempt income) less allowable deductions. The tax payable is determined by calculating the gross tax chargeable by applying the appropriate	Most of the deductions allowed to companies are also allowable to individuals (see 1.1); interest on government borrowing is exempt. Spouses are taxed separately. Special credits of Z$120,000 for handicapped persons are allowable. Tax credits include an elderly persons credit of Z$120,000 and 50 percent of medical expenses. The first Z$3,000 of pensions, and the first Z$3,000 of bonuses (or 10 percent of annual pay whichever is less) are tax exempt.	Basic tax Taxable income (in Z dollars)	Rate (in percent)

	rate to the taxable income, and deducting from the result the credit that the individual is entitled to. The tax of employed individuals is collected in advance from their weekly or monthly wages based on PAYE (pay-as-you-earn) tax tables. Advances are credited against the tax eventually assessed and also through a Final Deduction System. Benefits in the form of soft loans (other than for educational or medical reasons) and private use of company cars are taxable. The assessment year runs from January to December. The personal income tax is not fully global, with scheduler taxes for capital gains, domestic dividends, and t-bill interest.	Exemptions from income tax for fringe benefits of persons employed in Export Processing Zones (EPZs), and no income taxation of dividends, interest, royalties, and fees earned from activities in the EPZs. The first Z$90,000 of employer contributions to pension funds are deductible from taxable income tax.	Nonresident shareholders' tax: 15 percent on dividends paid by listed domestic companies to nonresident shareholders. 20 percent apply in the case of unlisted companies. Nonresident tax on interest: 10 percent withholding tax on interest paid to nonresidents. Creditable. Nonresident tax on fees: 20 percent withheld from fees payable to nonresident persons in respect of any services of a technical managerial, administrative, and consultative nature. Creditable where fees are subject to both income tax and nonresidents' tax. Nonresident tax on remittances: 20 percent, withheld at source. Resident tax on interest: 20 percent is deducted at source from interest payable by building societies, banks, discount house, or other financial institutions to a person (including trusts) ordinarily resident in Zimbabwe. Automated Financial Transaction Tax: A Z$50 tax is levied on every Automated Teller Transaction i.e. on withdrawal of cash or debit to account through Automated Teller Machines. Informal Traders—Tax: 10 percent tax on rentals payable by informal traders. Interest payable by the post office savings bank and some building society investments, as well as interest on Tax Reserve Certificates are exempt from tax.

Table 39. Zimbabwe: Summary of the Tax System as of January, 2004
(All amounts in Zimbabwe dollars)

Tax	Nature of Tax	Exemption and Deductions	Rates
1.3 Capital gains tax	A tax on the surplus of revenue over cost from the disposal of marketable securities and fixed property (applicable to both individual and companies).	If the gains in any year do not exceed Z$5,000, no tax is payable. If losses do not exceed that amount, they cannot be carried forward. Local authorities, pension funds, and certain other organisations and agencies are exempt. Rollover is allowed on the principal private residence and business property.	Intermediated Money Transfer tax: The intermediated money transfer tax at a rate of Z$50 per transaction. A flat rate of 20 percent. 50 percent of the asset price per annum is deducted from the asset price to offset the effects of inflation on asset prices. An ordinary rate of 20 percent is charged on sales of houses, and 10 percent applies for houses sold by those 60 years and above. Gains on securities: Gains related to that disposal of marketable securities that are not listed at the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange taxed at 10 percent.
1.4 Betting and gambling taxes (Betting and Totalizator Control Act, (Chapter 10:02) 33/76, 41/778, 32/79, 1/80, 5/83, 18/89, 15/94, 146/92; Pools Control Act, Chapter 87; and Casino Act, Chapter 77).			Horse racing: 15 percent of winning and gross turnover. Pool betting: 15 percent of aggregate. Casino gambling: 15 percent of winnings.
2. Social security contributions	Payroll tax instituted in October 1994 for the National Social Security Authority.	Central government employees and domestic (household) workers.	Employers and employees: 3 percent each of wages and salary (excluding Benefits), with a maximum wage and salary base of Z$4,000 per month
3. Payroll taxes	None.
4. Taxes on property
4.1 Real estates taxes	A local government tax levied annually on the value of real estate.	The scope of real estate covered and the valuation differ widely among local governments.	Rates differ among local governments. Rates vary from Z$30 to Z$150 per unit of land (400 hectares) in commercial farming areas.

Table 39. Zimbabwe: Summary of the Tax System as of January, 2004
(All amounts in Zimbabwe dollars)

Tax	Nature of Tax	Exemption and Deductions	Rates
4.2 Netwealth tax	None.
4.3 Estate duty (Estate Duty Act, Chapter 23:20)	Payable on the value of the assessed estate of a deceased person.	An abatement exempts estates valued at less than Z$50,000 where the deceased did not leave a surviving spouse and Z$5,000,000 when the deceased leaves a surviving spouse. The family home is not included in the value of the estate.	Rate varies up to 20 percent when the dutiable amount is Z$100,000 or more.
4.4 Property transfer tax	Stamp duties payable on transfers of property.		35c for every Z$100, or part thereof, of marketable securities; 10c for every Z$100, or part thereof, of other moveable property; 35c for every Z$100, or part thereof, of immovable property; 10c for cheques; and 3c for every Z$1 of insurance policies.
5. Taxes on goods and services
5.1 Value added tax. (Value Added Tax Act, Chapter 23:12)	Multi-stage tax levied and collected on each transaction in the production and distribution chain. Businesses registered for VAT can deduct the VAT they pay, as input tax. The person who acquires the goods or services for private use is not allowed a deduction for VAT paid and thus bears the cost of the tax. Exports of goods from Zimbabwe do not attract VAT (they are zero rated). Imports on the other hand are subject to VAT. Effective January 1, 2004, potential registrants for both goods and services should have annual turnover of Z$250,000,000 or more to register.	Taxable services include professional services (services of lawyers, accountants, engineers and the like), transportation, construction activities, and the letting of non-residential property. Basic commodities such as fresh meat and fish, milk, maize, bread, illuminating paraffin, and vegetables, as well as goods for use by disabled persons are exempt. For firms in Export Processing zones, a refund is given on value added tax paid on inputs.	Standard rate of 15 percent of retail price of all taxable supplies of goods and services.
5.2 Excise duties (Customs and Excise Act, Chapter 17:7; amended by Acts 23/79, 24/79, 2/80, and Customs and Excise (Suspension) Regulations, 1980, SI 645/80, and SI 55/81).	Dutiable goods include liquor and tobacco products. Tax levied at the manufacturing level.	Exports and imports are exempt. Imports that compete with excisable domestic goods are subject to customs rates that are equal to or greater than the excise tax rate.	Cigarettes: 60 percent Beer: clear beer, 45 percent; Opaque beer, 0 percent. Alcoholic spirits: 10 percent. Carbonated beverages: 5 percent. Wines: Wholly produced in Zimbabwe, 10 percent. Other, 5 percent.
